Re: The presence of phthalates, specifically in polyethylene items manufactured from materials that are FDA approved for food contact.

New Tech Plastics does not intentionally add phthalates during the manufacture of polyethylene items. Furthermore, New Tech Plastics has determined that its raw material suppliers do not intentionally add these compounds to the raw materials purchased to manufacture the polyethylene items FDA approved for food contact.

While we have not specifically analyzed for the presence of these chemicals, we have no reason to suspect that any would be present in our finished products.

Sincerely,

NEW TECH PLASTICS
